

JUNE 2009

Tack'n togs

INSIDE:

State of the Market Report
Belts & Buckles
Pet Products
Mini Horse Tack
Horse Treats
Niche Gift Departments

SPONSORSHIPS

■ Kerrits Sponsors Smith

Kerrits Equestrian Apparel announced the addition of eventer Tamra Smith to its Team Rider program. Smith has been riding for more than 20 years and training for more than 15. She turned professional five years ago and has had numerous top three finishes at the advanced level, including a win at Woodside, Calif. She and her equine companion Chaos Theory were named Reserve Horse and Rider of the year in Area VI. Internationally, the pair have been competitive at the 3*** level.

Kerrits is committed to providing innovative, functional performance apparel, designed and constructed specifically for the unique demands of women who ride.

Chester Weber and his star Four-In-Hand Combined Driving team. Photo courtesy of Live Oak Combined Driving.

■ Draper Joins Weber's Team

Draper Equine Therapy is the latest sponsor to accompany combined driver Chester Weber as he heads toward the 2010 World Equestrian Games. Weber, a force to be reckoned with in the field of Four-In-Hand Combined Driving, became the first American to win an individual medal at the World Championships and his horse Jamaica was the 2008 USEF Horse of the Year. Draper makes products for equines and people that help increase circulation and oxygenation within the body. Weber uses Draper's leg wraps on his horse as well as the rest of his team.

■ Pennfield Signs Superstars

Phillip Dutton, Chester Weber and Michael Barisone have joined several other superstars in the eventing and show-jumping worlds by signing on as Pennfield Promise Partners with Pennfield Equine Feed Technologies, the official feed of the United States Equestrian Federation. Weber is the winner of six consecutive National Combined Driving Championships. Dutton and